

WHICH OLD WOMAN (OR MAN) WILL YOU BE?

Be challenged to look at the designing you are doing now, possibly unknowingly, that is determining what you will be like in the future.

The older we get, the less energy we have to pretend and the less inclined we are to care what others think... we simply become more of who we already are.

WHICH OLD WOMAN/MAN WILL YOU BE? is an opportunity to look at the intentional choices you can make now to assure that you will be Who You Want to Be... on purpose.

WHICH OLD WOMAN/MAN WILL YOU BE? can be a 45-minute presentation that will challenge thinking and give points of action. This presentation can also be a longer workshop, giving opportunity for interaction and more participant sharing.

In either presentation, participants will be challenged to consider their current choices and how they will affect the future you. Participants are encouraged to identify choices they are making now that will affect their later relationships and to be intentional in choosing ways to keep growing and improving.
